

CCIS WINTER 2016 RESEARCH SEMINAR SERIES:

PARENTS WITHOUT PAPERS:
THE PROGRESS AND PITFALLS OF MEXICAN AMERICAN INTEGRATION
With Frank D. Bean and Susan K. Brown
Monday, January 11th, 2016 - 12pm to 1:30pm
ERC Conference Room 115

In Parents Without Papers, immigration scholars Frank D. Bean and Susan K. Brown document the extent to which the outsider status of these newcomers inflicts multiple hardships on their children and grandchildren. Parents Without Papers provides both a general conceptualization of immigrant integration and an in-depth examination of the Mexican American case. The authors draw upon unique retrospective data to shed light on three generations of integration.

Frank D. Bean is Distinguished Professor of Sociology and director of the Center for Research on International Migration at the University of California, Irvine. His research focuses on immigrant integration, demographic change, and immigrant and migration policy. A member of the Council on Foreign Relations, he has been a Guggenheim Fellow and a Visiting Scholar at the Russell Sage Foundation, the Transatlantic Academy in Washington, DC, the American Academy in Berlin, and the Center for U.S.-Mexican Studies at the University of California at San Diego.

Susan K. Brown is Associate Professor of Sociology at the University of California, Irvine. She directs the master's program in Demographic and Social Analysis and is associate director for the Center for Research on International Migration. Her research focuses on immigrant integration, residential settlement patterns and education.
