

Migration Control: Authors of Three New Books Meet Critics

Thursday, November 14, 2019 | 2:00PM - 4:00PM

ERC Conference Room 115 - Reception to Follow Immediately

The Invention of the Passport, 2nd Edition

Author: John Torpey, Presidential Professor of Sociology and History, CUNY
Director of the Ralph Bunche Institute for International Studies, CUNY

The Shadow of the Wall: Violence and Migration on the US-Mexico Border

Author: Daniel E. Martínez, Assistant Professor of Sociology, University of Arizona

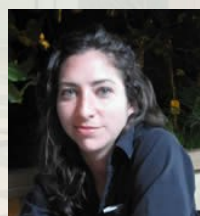

Refuge beyond Reach: How Rich Democracies Repel Asylum Seekers

Author: David FitzGerald, Theodore E. Gildred Chair in U.S.-Mexican Relations
& Professor of Sociology, UCSD
Co-Director, Center for Comparative Immigration Studies, UCSD

Discussant: Margaret Peters
Associate Professor of Political Science, UCLA

Chair: Vanesa Ribas
Associate Professor of Sociology, UCSD

This panel will summarize and critically assess three new books on migration control and its effects. The authors will discuss how forms of control that today are taken for granted were invented, the types and consequences of enforcement at the border and far beyond the national territory, and the experiences of people whose attempts to cross borders collide with government efforts to deter them.

To RSVP for this event, please click here: Migration Control

For more information please call 858-822-4447 or email aminvielle@ucsd.edu