

The Integration Nation: Immigration and Colonial Power in Liberal Democracies

Friday, June 3, 2022 | 12:00PM - 1:30PM Pacific Time

Will be held via Zoom (This Event May Be Recorded)

Author: Adrian Favell

Adrian Favell is Professor of Sociology at the University of Leeds. He is an interdisciplinary sociologist with a background in human geography, political science, political philosophy and comparative literature, and has a strong interest in mixed methods (qualitative/quantitative), research design, and the philosophical foundations of social research.

Discussant: Sara Wallace Goodman

Sara Wallace Goodman is Associate Professor of Political Science at UC Irvine. Her research examines democratic citizenship and the shaping of political identity through immigrant integration. She is the author of Citizenship in Hard Times: How Ordinary People Respond to Democratic Threat (Cambridge University Press, 2022) and co-author of the forthcoming Pandemic Politics (Princeton University Press).

As the world confronts the largest refugee crisis since World War II, wealthy countries are being called upon to open their doors to the displaced, with the assumption that this will restore their prospects for a bright future. Refuge follows Syrians who fled a brutal war in their homeland as they attempt to rebuild in countries of resettlement and asylum. Their experiences reveal that these destination countries are not saviors; they can deny newcomers' potential by failing to recognize their abilities and invest in the tools they need to prosper.

Register Here

For more information please email w2tam@ucsd.edu