

David FitzGerald, Ph.D.
Professor of Sociology, Center for
Comparative Immigration Studies
UC San Diego

HOW IMMIGRATION POLICY AFFECTS HEALTH AND HUMAN RIGHTS

Nicole Ramos, Esq.
Director, Border Rights Project,
Al Otro Lado

U.S. immigration policies and their enforcement are in flux. Meanwhile, uncertainty, deportation fears and prolonged detentions take a toll on the physical and mental health of immigrants and refugees, and affect their access to healthcare.

At this critical time, we invite you to a discussion of these issues and the actions organizations are taking to improve the lives and health of these vulnerable populations.

Q & A session follows.

James Dell, Esq.
President, Professional Alliance of Children

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 8
6 - 7:30 PM

UC SAN DIEGO
STUDENT SERVICES CENTER,
MULTIPURPOSE ROOM, 1ST FLOOR

REFRESHMENTS WILL BE SERVED AT 5:30 PM

UCSD Faculty Host: P. Betty Shih, MPM, PhD
Department of Psychiatry, School of Medicine

Fernando Mendoza, MD
Associate Dean of Minority Advising &
Programs, Professor of Pediatrics,
Stanford University

UC San Diego