Shira Goldenberg, PhD

Shira Goldenberg, Ph.D. is an Assistant Professor of Health Sciences at Simon Fraser University and a Research Scientist at the Centre for Gender and Sexual Health Equity (CGSHE) at Providence Health Care. She is also an Adjunct Assistant Professor in the Division of Infectious Diseases and Global Public Health in the UC San Diego School of Medicine and was a visiting scholar at the Centre for Comparative Immigration Studies (CCIS) in 2018. Dr. Goldenberg has >10 years experience in community-based research on im/migrant health, with a focus on women's health, HIV/STIs, human rights, and precarious labor.

Argentina E. Servin, MD, MPH

Argentina E. Servin, MD, MPH is an Assistant Professor in the Division of Infectious Diseases and Global Public Health, Department of Medicine at the University of California, San Diego (UCSD). Dr. Servin is a bilingual and bicultural clinician-researcher with training in preventive medicine, infectious disease and clinical epidemiology. Her work has included assessing sexual and reproductive health education and health service utilization among vulnerable underserved populations living in the U.S.-Mexico border region. For the past two years, specifically, she has focused her research on sexual violence, substance abuse and HIV/STI risk, among at-risk youth, female sex workers (FSWs), migrant/immigrant and refugees in the United States, Mexico and Central America. Dr. Servin also serves as a medical volunteer at UCSD Health Frontiers in Tijuana (HFiT) student-run free clinic where she provides accessible, quality healthcare for underserved communities in Mexico in a respectful environment where students from both Mexico and the U.S., patients, and community members learn from each other.
